Mrs. Lewis Hostess To Little Neck Garden Club

Will Visit Mr. Wellsby's Gardens In Place Of Regular Meeting In May

Mrs. Frederick W. Lewis, president of the Little Neck Garden Club, entertained the 50 members present at the April meeting of the club at her home, 30-40 Old House Landing road, on Wednesday afternoon. Assistant hostesses were Mrs. Charles Schmehl and Mrs. E. W. Sundstrom, with Mrs. Henry Struss and Mrs. Charles Stikeman presiding at the teatable during the social hour which brought the afternoon to a close.

At the business meeting after the usual routine reading of the minutes by the secretary, Mrs. L. L. Radline, and the gratifying report of the treasurer, Mrs. Clarence B. Moriarty a rising vote of thanks was given Mrs. Moriarty and Mrs. M. Richard Brackett co-chairmen of the committee in charge of the socially and financially successful benefit bridge party sponsored by the club on April 7 at the Douglaston Club, and which was attended by over 200 people from all parts of the North Shore, Manhattan and Brooklyn.

Mrs. Burton Hotchkiss, chairman of publicity, reported that a gratifying amount of publicity had been given the activities of the club by local and Metropolitan papers during the past month.

Mrs. Ben Andrews, chairman of the roadside committee, reported her attendance at the last meeting of the Queens roadside committee and read a plea from that organization to all garden clubs, societies and civic organizations in Queens to make April the "Clean-up" month in every community as a prelude to getting all of Long Island in spic and span order for the delectation of the hundreds of thousands of visitors who will tour the Island during the World's Fair.

Announcement was made that instead of holding a regular meeting in May the Club will accept the invitation to visit, on May 19, the beautiful gardens of Mr. Wellsby of Baldwin, L. I., who was the guest speaker at the January meeting of the club.

The president also announced that the semi-annual meeting of the 2nd District of the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State, will be held April 26 at the Bethpage Country Club, Bethpage, L. I. Mrs. Harry C. Naegeli, recently re-elected director of the 2nd District, will preside at the business meeting at 10:45 A. M. Those wishing to partake of the luncheon at 1:00 P. M. will please notify Miss Olivia J. Norris of Douglaston, recently appointed hostess for the 2nd District. At 2:30 P. M. George M. Reed of the Brooklyn Botanical Society, will give a talk on "Gardens of Japan" illustrated with colored slides.

The club was informed that George Jensen a silversmith, of Manhattan has invited blue ribbon winners of the different garden clubs in the Manhattan and Long Island districts to compete in a flowershow he is sponsoring the week of April 26-May 1 inclusive. There will be breakfast, luncheon and dinner table arrangements, and artistic flower arrangements in different kinds of china, glass and bronze containers, and prizes will be awarded. Entrants will furnish their own flowers but will use containers provided by Mr. Jensen.

An invitation was read from Mrs. Innis Brown, president of the Douglaston Garden Club, to the members of the Little Neck Club to attend the meeting of the Douglaston Club at 2:30 P. M., April 20, at the home of Mrs. Earl R. Trangmar, 46-38 243rd street, Douglaston, at which Mrs. Charles Dosher, well known horticulturist, will give an instructive talk on all phases of the culture of perennials. Mrs. William J. Bierach was appointed a committee to ascertain how many of the Little Neck members will be able to accept this invitation, and notify Mrs. Brown.

Mrs. Nathaniel Garretson who has been appointed general chairman of the annual spring flower show of the Little Neck Club, to be held in the Little Neck Community Church on Little Neck parkway on May 12, in place of Mrs. Martin Matheson, who was forced to resign on acount of recent illness and death in her family, read the schedule for the show arranged by herself and the members of her committee, Mrs. Lewis and Mrs. Isaac C. Ludlam. There will be 17 horticultural classes and the following artistic arrangement classes, some of which are new and novel:

1. Still life. Any out material. Space 24x24 inches.
2. Corsage made from garden flowers and exhibited on suitable dress material. Space 12x18 inches.
3. Centerpiece arrangement of flowers for children's party, to be staged on exhibitor's card table.
4. Arrangement of flowers with tulips predominating.
5. Line arrangement of flowering branches—tree shrub or vine.
6. Mass arrangement of garden flowers.
7. Miniature arrangement in pair of containers, each not more than six inches over all.
8. Arrangement in container not originally intended for flowers.

Mrs. Lewis explained the above classes in detail, illustrating with flowers and different containers.

Mrs. Charles Stikeman, who was recently notified that she is now a qualified Flower Show Judge, as the result of passing the examination in the course in Flower Arrangement and Flower Show Judging sponsored last winter at the Waldorf Astoria Hotel in Manhattan by the Federated Garden Clubs of New York State, read a charming paper giving her impressions of the course and what she learned from it.

She said that she had greatly enjoyed the course as a whole—the superlative authorities one is privileged to hear, the other women taking the course, and the general atmosphere—and earnestly recommended that other members take the course at the first opportunity.

In speaking of the first lectures, which were devoted to design in flower arrangement, composition in silhouette studies, arrangement of flowers in relation to period backgrounds, and the proper and interesting use of color—the speaker paid a tribute to Mrs. Lewis, president of the club and herself a graduate of the Judges' Course, who had, at different times, given to the members of the Little Neck Club a great deal of the information given by the well known lecturers in the course—and in a more comprehensive way. She said that her predominating impression was that her club had had the benefit of excellent leadership. The more she listened to the lecturers the more she was convinced that the Little Neck Club fulfills all the more important requirements specified for Garden Show work. Most of the mistakes and omissions made by the usual run of garden clubs the Little Neck club does not make, thanks to Mrs. Lewis' advice and the splendid cooperation of the flower show chairman, Mrs. Garretson. One has set the club on the right road and the other has kept it there.

Montague Free, one of the lecturers, stressed the following irritating things which judges constantly meet—not being ready for the judging—the judges kept waiting; careless arrangement of classes—not in rotation; exhibits of a given class in different parts of the room instead of all together; no one assigned to affix the awards; no one appointed to carry the judging book; sly suggestions to judges; general sloppy appearance of the show as a whole.

Asked "How can we make our horticultural shows more attractive?" Mr. Free replied "Arrange for effect—make the exhibit educational—show what can be done by pruning." Other suggestions made by Mr. Free were—That judges should be kept away from the exhibit room while the exhibits are being arranged; judges should come from out of town—the farther away the better; schedules should be sent to judges in ample time to enable them to prepare; judges should be allowed plenty of time to judge.

Asked whether a husband and wife should exhibit in the same show Mr. Free answered in the affirmative, but not in the same classes. The final suggestion was that show schedules should be so worded and compiled that there is no roof for ambiguity or misunderstanding.

American Ships Quilt, Block No. 43, "Ferryboat" will be published Wednesday in the North Shore Daily Journal.

"Who Am I?" Mask Ball

Douglaston Art League Sixth Annual Affair

From reports that are being circulated around about the "Who Am I?" Mask Ball being sponsored by the Douglaston Art League Saturday night the Beaux Arts Ball held every year in Manhattan has some competition.

No one will want to miss this affair and if you haven't already made arrangements to attend, get your thinking cap on and make the decision as to the costume you think best suits you. According to information received from the committee in charge of prizes you can't afford to stay at home.

All the committees have been tireless in their efforts to make this the biggest and best party ever held and those of you who have attended the parties staged by the artists in the past, we can safely say, have looked forward to this date and have had your costume securely deposited in a safe place and have pecked in every day to see that nothing possibly could have happened to it.

Just a hint—don't borrow grandma's or grandpa's shoes—wear a good comfortable pair as there will be plenty of dancing and with a popular orchestra engaged you won't want to sit, not even one dance out.

Now is your chance to get out of character—close the door of your home Saturday night, drop the key in the mail box and head straight for the Douglaston Club.

Miss Helen Chase has charge of refreshment arrangements. Leslie Nash is president of th eLeague.
