Mothers' Club Of School 22 Urges Work On Building

Board Asks That Original Plans Be Completed To Eliminate Part Time

Ways and means of bringing before the proper authorities the finishing of School 32 according to the original plan were discussed at a meeting of the board of the Mothers' Club of School 32, held Wednesday afternoon at the home of the president, Mrs. Cyrus P. Eddey, 168-15 33rd avenue, Flushing.

The school was built 10 years ago, with the understanding that the original plan would be completed as the need developed. For the past 5 years, the club has been pressing for completion of the plan. The part time which was necessitated was relieved for a time when the Bayside-West school was built, but with the rapid growth of the district the school is now back again on part time.

Board members present were: Mrs. Charles Reges, Mrs. Andrew Peribonis, Mrs. E. B. Hyde, Jr., Mrs. Alfred Reeves, Mrs. Raymond Dumphy, Mrs. C. Applebaum, Mrs. S. R. Dayhoff, Mrs. H. Munzer, Mrs. Fay Kaiser, Mrs. F. Godridge, Mrs. Gustave Gander, Mrs. Phyllis Manice, Mrs. F. Cobb, and Mrs. L. L. Heaton, press chairman. A social hour followed the session.

The club held a well-attended Fathers' Night Wednesday evening in the school auditorium, 35th avenue and 171st street, Flushing. Mrs. Cyrus P. Eddey, president of the mothers' club, opened the meeting and greeted the fathers, after which she called upon the principal, Miss Helen Concannon, to address the assembly. Miss Concannon emphasized the splendid health record of the school.

The speaker of the evening was W. B. Preston, president of the Parents Association of School 150, Sunnyside. He spoke of the various activities of his local organization, and the methods used to bring it to such a state of success.

A lively discussion ensued on how best to arouse greater interest among the parents regarding the needs of the community. The Rev. Bradley J. Folensbee, pastor of the Church-on-the-Hill, led the discussion, and offered practical suggestions.

Miss Shirley Van Brunt rendered several piano selections.

Among those present were: Mrs. Leon Tucker, a past president of the club, and some of the teachers of the Flushing Progressive School. The parents were entertained following the meeting, a committee of the mothers' club serving refreshments.

Mothers To Give School 24 Class Diploma Folders

Club Will Make Gift To January Graduating Class; Plan Card Party

School 24 Mothers' Club voted to donate folders for the diplomas of the January graduating class at the monthly meeting in the school auditorium, Queens and Robinson avenues, Flushing, presided over by Mrs. Samuel Suffin, president, Wednesday afternoon.

Mothers who have children in the 8B classes who desire to enter them in vocational high school should register them immediately, the club stressed.

A record month of welfare work for the community was reported by the club's welfare chairman, Mrs. Pauline Weir. It included: distribution of a large number of Christmas baskets; supplying of several families with food, clothing, and medical aid.

The next monthly card party will be held January 23 at the home of Mrs. Russell Gough, 148-33 Kalmia avenue, Flushing, at 8 o'clock. The annual card party will be held February 27 at 8 o'clock. Members of the Child Study group have arranged to have a luncheon in Brooklyn January 18. They will assemble at the subway at 11 o'clock.

Following the business meeting the mothers were shown a historic film dealing with General Wolfe and Montcalm. Miss Elizabeth Mechlenberg, seventh grade teacher, operated the machine. The film was intended as a demonstration to the mothers, of the kind of films which the museums showed for the education of children. Mrs. Aldo Lazzarini is press chairman.

Fathers, Mothers Throng School 23 On Parents' Night

Flushing School Taxed As Parents Watch Children In Entertainment

School 23 Mothers' Club's first Parents' Night drew a capacity crowd of fathers and mothers which taxed to overflowing the largest room in the school, Whitestone avenue, Flushing. Close to 300 parents and children attended, and it was unanimously decided to make the event an annual one.

A feature of the evening was the entertainment, presented by 125 children of the school, exhibitions of work of the various classes in the school hall, and conferences between the parents and teachers.

Mrs. Edwin Judd, president of the mothers' club, presided and greeted the fathers, regretting that the school building was not more commodious to receive them. She urged the mothers present to join the mothers' club, if they had not already become affiliated.

The principal, Mrs. Adele M. Trace, also greeted the parents, giving an especial welcome to the fathers.

Every class took part in the entertainment, making its special contribution. The program was as follows: selections, kindergarten orchestra; nursery rhymes, class 1A; health alphabet, class 1B; safety play, class 2A; "Hansel and Gretel folk dance, class 2B; "The Wish Bird," a sketch, class 3A; kindergarten orchestra, Swiss May dance, class 3A; New Year's reception, class 3B; Dutch folk dance, class 4A; Health Day play, class 4B.

The faculty of the school had charge of the program, headed by the principal, Mrs. Trace. The parents enthusiastically applauded the contributions of each class which showed careful training and excellent performance.

The meeting opened with patriotic exercises, led by the principal. A short business session was held by the club, Mrs. Judd presiding. Mrs. Paul Le Gore reported on the success of the recent cake sale.

A social hour followed the program. Refreshments were served to the parents and the children by the following committee: Mrs. M. Jacobsen, Mrs. Albert Solledar, Mrs. Douglas Chapin, Mrs. M. Shapiro, Mrs. James Hoerger, Mrs. M. Grof, Mrs. Eugene Hoffman, Mrs. H. H. Sanderson, Mrs. E. Guthrie.
